Democratic Meeting at James' Hall.

Remember the meeting! Turn out Democrats—hour, 8 o'clock.

FROM the number of orders for rooms to the proprietor of the H. I. Kimball House, the indications are we will have a large crowd at the Fair next week, in other words, the Fair will be a grand success.

Rally, Democrats!

UNITED STATES SENATOR NORWOOD. This gentleman made a rousing speech at Rome yesterday. He is now in Atlanta, and he will be invited to address the meeting at James' Hall to-night. Of course all Georgians would be glad to hear from our Georgia Senator. Major Spencer and others have been invited and will be present, and will doubtless respond to calls.

LATER.—Senator Norwood has consented to address the meeting to-night. This is positive. Let us have a rousing meeting.

Editors Constitution: Atlanta, Ga., Saturday, October 12, 1872.

Editors Constitution: It will soon be time when the voters of Atlanta will be called on to elect a Mayor. We have not yet seen any name suggested. Atlanta needs a man for Chief Magistrate who has integrity and financial ability. Why not all the people, and especially all true Democrats, concentrate on Major S. B. Spencer. We merely make this suggestion without any disparagement to the claims of other aspirants.

About 11 o'clock, on the same night, as the Clyde was plowing her way down stream, a negro fireman, name not known to us, accidentally fell overboard, and was drowned; and about 8 o'clock the next evening, as the passengers were disembarking from the steamer Katie from Augusta, an old negro woman, Clara, fell from the boat into the river and was drowned.—Savannah News.

H. I. Kimball's Connection with It and What He Really Did.

His Connection With Georgia State Fairs.

Editors Constitution: Now that the election is over—the returns published—and you will have time to consider the facts in the case, I desire to call your attention to an editorial which appeared in your morning edition of October 1st, headed—"Georgia State Fair, rather a brilliant record," in which you use the following language: "The next year (1870) Atlanta was determined not to be outdone in the matter of preparations. While the history of Mr. Kimball is not a very proud one, and his motives were none of the purest, his energy and business capacity were sufficient to push the Fair vigorously," etc. To which I have to say, that the "history" of Mr. Kimball in Georgia is not yet completed, and cannot now be fairly understood, its sequel may prove it more "proud" than you now give him credit for. But it is not with Mr. Kimball's "history," except as it relates to the Atlanta Fair Grounds, that the present article has to do. That part of his "history" though completed, is not wholly understood, even by our own people, but this is the first time I have ever heard or seen his "motives," in this connection, called in question, and believing you to be gentlemen, ready to do full justice to all men, Mr. Kimball included, I propose to refer briefly to Mr. Kimball's "history" in connection with "preparations" referred to, and the Fair that followed.

The city determined upon providing ample grounds, etc., for the Fair of 1870, and proceeded to purchase land and prepare plans and specifications, upon which he asked for bids. The contract was finally awarded to Mr. Kimball, to prepare the grounds and erect buildings in accordance with plans and specifications furnished him, for the sum of $75,000, payable in city bonds, worth then about 70 cents. But relying upon Mr. Kimball's taste and experience, the Council gave him full permission to improve and elaborate the plans and exercise his own superior taste and skill in the construction of the entire work.

How Mr. Kimball used this permission may be seen any day by visiting the grounds which, when completed, were universally pronounced the finest in the South, but may be better understood by comparing the original plans with the finished structures. These plans call for, in addition to the stalls, fences, race track, amphitheatre, Secretary and Treasurer's offices, forage house and dining rooms, four exhibition buildings proper, averaging about 30 by 120 feet, all to be cheap board structures, three of them one and two stories high. In place of these Mr. Kimball erected four spacious, well finished buildings, averaging about 50 by 100 feet, each two stories in height, surmounted by a neat tower, and furnish with ample windows, broad stair cases and good matched floors, affording more than double the amount of floor room called for by the contract. Mr. K. still further exercised his discretionary powers in the construction of the "Grand Entrance," with its splendid arches, beautiful towers, and massive iron gates, being far superior to the requirements of the contract, and in the erection of the handsome gothic cottages, flanking the gate way right and left. One of which is fitted up as a first-class residence, with six well furnished rooms. The ... for in the official specifications. Besides these he erected a "Ladies' Cottage," with 5 rooms, two offices for President and Superintendent, two large two-story saloons provided with the necessary counters, shelving, etc.; a mammoth skating rink; a commodious boat house on the margin of the beautiful artificial lake (constructed at great expense, but never contemplated in the official plans) 20 large house sheds for the accommodation of officers of the fair and city government, besides several small booths and stands and other conveniences and ornamentations too numerous to mention, all of which are voluntary additions to the official plans, involving altogether an actual expenditure upon the grounds and buildings of over $109,000, and giving employment to hundreds of our mechanics and laboring men, who might otherwise have been much of the time without work, as they have been since, and for which we received in return, as before stated, $75,000 in city bonds, which netted him after buying broker's commissions about $51,000, and the gate money for the Fair of 1870, from which he realized less than $15,000, making his receipts in the aggregate, about $66,000, against an actual outlay in cash—every dollar of which was promptly paid—of over $109,000 —a dead loss of $43,000.

Now, can you, in all this, see any indications that his "motives were none of the purest?" On the contrary, do not the facts presented abundantly and overwhelmingly disprove the charge, and still other convincing facts may be added. Mr. Kimball leased from the city the grounds he had built for six years, from January 1st, 1871, at an annual rental of $12,000, payable in its own bonds, or $9,000 cash, with the distinct understanding that the State Fair was to be permanently located in Atlanta. But when the Association determined to hold the Fair of 1871 in Macon, Mr. Kimball asked the city to release him from his contract and take the grounds with all the property thereon. This they declined, and Mr. K. actually paid to the city, in July, 1871, $9,000 in cash. Knowing he could get but $6,000 from the Fair Association for their use, one thousand or more of which must be expended in putting the grounds and track in order; and, notwithstanding his failure in the fall of 1871, he continued, through his agent, to keep the grounds and preserve the buildings in perfect order until the city could legally take possession of them, and then turned over, without process of law, together with all the houses, saloons, stands, skating rink, etc., etc., built at his own expense, and worth to the city many thousands of dollars, and though he had full permission under his contract to remove all private buildings, etc., at any time during the term of his lease, they were all left, and stand there to-day for the use and benefit of the city, and they, as well the entire grounds, are, and must forever remain, a part of Mr. Kimball's "history" to which no unfavorable criticisms can be applied.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY IN SAVANNAH.

Heart-Rending Scene.

Special to the Macon Enterprise.]

SAVANNAH, October 11.—This morning between 10 and 11 o'clock, Alexander Dillon, son of Mr. David R. Dillon, banker, entered his father's office pale and evidently laboring under some mental excitement. He entered the back room of the office where his father transacts his private business. On seeing him his father began to reprimand him severely. The young man swore he would not put up with such language, and in the excitement of the moment drew his pistol and fired at his father three times, one ball taking effect in the right arm, one in the head and another in the thigh. After committing this act he shot himself in the breast and expired in about twenty minutes.

The wounds inflicted on Mr. Dillon are not dangerous.

The mother, on hearing of the fatal tragedy, rushed out of her house and ran down the street to the office, screaming and lamenting, abusing and threatening the father for what she supposed to be his own act. On reaching the office, she endeavored to get in the room where Mr. Dillon was, but was refused. She then entered the room where the dead body of her son lay. The scene that followed beggars description.

All the agonized feelings of a bereaved mother were given free vent to. She wailed over the lifeless body of her son, and with tearful eyes and heavy groans kissed his cold lips.

There was hardly a dry eye among the crowd that thronged the streets. Mr. Dillon sat in his office until his wounds were dressed.

Coroner Sheftall visited the scene of tragedy at noon to-day and held an inquest over the body of young Dillon. The verdict rendered, after a patient examination of witnesses, was that deceased came to his death by a pistol-shot wound inflicted by his own hand.

A SPECIMEN CASE.

From the Indianapolis Journal.]

We have to chronicle this week the story of a marriage which culminated after some of those mysterious and complicated difficulties which so often beset love's pathway. It is the old story of faithless love on one hand, and constancy to the end on the other. It may be remembered that some time in July the Journal made mention of the clandestine marriage of a Miss Jennings, the only daughter of the Mayor of Franklin, to a Mr. Davis, express manager on the Martinsville division of the Indianapolis, Cincinnati and LaFayette Railroad.

At the time of her marriage she was engaged to a Mr. Barngrover, of Franklin, who, of course, was kept in ignorance of her secret engagement with Davis until the time of her elopement and marriage. The arrangements were made, and the girl was to meet Davis at some point on the road, and they would then proceed to Martinsville and be married. She went to Barngrover, who was the owner of a livery stable, and requested the use of his best rig, which, of course, was granted, and she immediately started for Trafalgar, a village on the road, where she was met by Davis, the team sent back, and they proceeded to Martinsville, and were married that evening. Her marriage with Davis does not seem to have been a fortunate one, and after a few days she returned to her parents and said she would not live with him. While at home she came to this city on one occasion with her former suitor, who still thinking there was a chance for him, sent to Davis to know what amount he would take to procure a divorce. Davis answered that he would take $200. Barngrover returned word that the amount was large, and wanted to know the least possible sum he would take. Davis answered that he would take one hundred and fifty dollars, and not a cent less. Barngrover then sent him the $150, and Davis filed a complaint in the common pleas court at Franklin for divorce on the grounds of desertion, and in due time the divorce was granted, but not quite soon enough to carry out the entire programme, for wedding No 2 had been set for Tuesday evening of this week, and arrangements perfected for the occasion; but when the bridegroom made application for the license the clerk informed him that the judge had not signed the decree, and he would have to wait, and like a man he waited until the next day, and they were made one flesh. So much happiness for so little lucre.

☞ A Berlin correspondent suggests the reasons why Sherman was snubbed there—thus:

"The fact of the matter is," said a great personage whom I will not name, "Burnside did our business for us completely. Burnside's the man that butted the American bull off the Prussian bridge. Burnside's winter in the camp before Paris, Burnside's good intentions, Burnside's gimlet ways, Burnside's intermediations and go-betweenitudes and hang-aroundiness—well, I should not advise any American General to visit Prussia for at least a generation, until the recollection of Burnside has been effaced. I'll tell you a story:

They say—I don't know how true it is—that the last time Bismarck had one of his little attacks—purely nervous, you know—he fancied he was haunted by the great white shining spectre of a monstrous billiard ball, that kept following him around, and caroming against him at all angles, and pocketing in his midriff, and boring him through and through. And it is said that in the height of his most violent paroxysm he shrieked out: "If you do not wish to see me perish before your eyes, take it away! Take it away!" "Take what away, Prince?" asked the devoted attendant. 'That Burnside's head! Take it away!'"

POLITICAL ON-DIT.—It is said that the Hon. Alexander H. Stephens is about to yield to solicitations pressed upon him from different parts of the Eighth Congressional District, to become a candidate for Congress. It is further said that the Hon. Philip Clayton, Radical nominee, is willing to retire for his benefit.

We do not know on what the rumor is based. So many strange things happen in politics that nothing seems too improbable for belief.

If Mr Stephens can conciliate the Radicals in Congress as successfully as it seems he is conciliating the Radicals in the Eighth District, he might be a power in the State again. But can he conciliate the Democrats of the Eighth? That's the question.—Augusta Constitutionalist.

☞ It is rumored that money was sent to a certain white Radical in this county, by the Granites, to pay the negroes poll tax to enable them to vote for Governor Walker. We, of course, cannot affirm that the rumor is true, but if it is true we can say that not more than ten per cent. of the fund ever reached the tax collector, while ninety per cent. found its way to the pocket of the white Radical.

If the Granites have more money to invest politically in Warren county we cheerfully recommend the same white Radical to their favorable consideration.—Warrenton Clipper.

MAKE A HANDSOME THING OF.

WE have two articles of our own invention and patent that is needed in every household, and meets with ready sale—both paying large profits—for which we wish to sell territory. We have all the territory of the United States to sell or exchange for good real estate, except the States of Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Alabama and three counties in the State of Georgia.

One of our inventions and patents is a Peach Stoner and Halver. With this machine, one hand can do the work of six or eight hands, and at the same time increasing the value of the fruit 25 to 30 per cent: when dried, as it cuts the peach in strictly halves and thereby prevents worms from getting in the dried fruit.

Men, in selling the machines, can make very easily if a good salesman from FIVE TO FIFTY DOLLARS per day, clear of all expense

Having been a cotton planter, and being fond of farming, I would exchange the right to one or both articles for a specified amount of territory for a good plantation, with or without stock and provisions, in South Georgia or Middle Florida.

THE undersigned now own the plates of this POPULAR SERIES; and as they are the only Purely Southern School Books offered in the market, we submit that it is to the interest of Teachers to patronize them. Send for circulars of Special Terms to Teachers—VERY LIBERAL. Specimen copies sent free for examination.

Prof. Orr, the Superintendent of Education for Georgia, says of them:

Messrs. J. W. Burke & Co., Macon, Ga.—GENTLEMEN: I have given to the Sterling Series of School Books, which you have had the kindness to leave with me, such examination as the limited amount of leisure at my command has allowed. With several books of the series I was already familiar, having added greatly to the interest of several public exhibitions, while engaged in active school work, by selections from their pages. While there ought not to be anything offensively sectional in our school literature, I must be allowed to say that it is with feelings of both pleasure and pride that I find in the pages of these books so liberal a recognition of Southern talent. I am glad, too, to learn that their publication is to be transferred to our own State. Southern independence will be soonest achieved by providing, as far as possible, every necessary for the supply of all our wants, both material and mental, upon our own soil. I will only add that I would be pleased to see the books extensively used.

Respectfully yours,
GUSTAVUS J. ORR,
State School Commissioner.

TO LAWYERS.—A full report of the decisions of the Supreme Court is furnished to THE CONSTITUTION exclusively, by the Reporter of the Court.

ATLANTA:

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1872.

Notice to Subscribers—Cash Hereafter.

The great bulk of subscribers to THE CONSTITUTION pay in advance, but a considerable number fail to do so, causing exceeding annoyance and much loss, which we cannot afford. Moreover, it is not just to those who pay and pay in advance. We have, therefore, determined to require cash from January 1st, 1873.

There will, positively, be no exception to the rule. All subscriptions must be accompanied with the cash.

For the Fair.

Our advertising patrons will bear in mind that THE CONSTITUTION publishes a regular afternoon edition. This will be circulated largely at the Fair Ground every day of the fair. We already have a large number of advertisements prepared with a view to the fair.

The Hog Crop.

There is great increase in the hog crop of the country this year. For instance Iowa has 1,244,169 hogs this year against 1,006,671 last year

The increase is ascribed to the abundant corn harvest.

The Episcopal Bazaar.

We took a look at the Episcopal Bazaar yesterday. It is inviting. Taste and attraction reign. The ladies have done wonders. It will repay any one to visit. Among the ladies at work not mentioned in our previous notice, we observe Mrs. Dr. Johnson and Miss Rosa Wright.

☞ We were pleased to meet at the depot last night, Colonel T. M. Acton, the General Agent of that sterling daily, THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION. Colonel A. will be in this place on Saturday, the 12th instant, for the purpose of calling on our business men. THE CONSTITUTION is the official organ of the Democratic party in Georgia, and we hope our friends will give it a hearty support—Camilla Enterprise.

Georgia Enterprise.

The copartnership heretofore existing under the firm of De Laney & Anderson, as publishers, has been dissolved. Mr. J. W. Anderson has purchased the interest of Mr. De Laney, and will continue the publication of the above excellent weekly at Covington, as heretofore. The Enterprise is a newsy,

Arkansas.

The telegraph brought us an item yesterday that the Liberal ticket has been withdrawn. We had failed to keep up with Arkansas politics, and therefore had to investigate to understand it. As we suspected, it involved a Radical trick.

The Liberal ticket telegraphed to be withdrawn was a bogus ticket. A genuine Liberal ticket was put up in June and is still up. The bogus ticket was gotten up in the interest of Clayton, the Grant candidate for Governor. It has failed signally, and is withdrawn.

Plucky.

All over the country, with a few exceptions, we see the Democrats and Liberals plucky and hopeful. We like that. Unflinching courage is one of the vital elements of victory. Weak-kneed people have no business to enter into contests.

We find ringing editorials from every quarter. The press is certainly standing up gallantly.

We have not space to give them. We give the calculation of the New York Tribune since the elections of the 8th:

For Greeley.	Electors	For Grant	Electors.
Alabama	10	Iowa	11
Arkansas	6	Kansas	5
Connecticut	6	Maine	7
Delaware	3	Massachusetts	13
Florida	4	Michigan	11
Georgia	11	Nebraska	3
Kentucky	12	Oregon	3
Louisiana	8	Rhode Island	4
Maryland	8	South Carolina	7
Missouri	15	Vermont	5
New Jersey	9	Pennsylvania	29
		Ohio	22
New York	35
Tennessee	12	Total	120
Texas	8
Virginia	11
West Virginia	5
Indiana	15
Total	178

Leaving still seriously contested:

California	6	Nevada	3
Illinois	21	New Hampshire	5
Minnesota	5	North Carolina	10
Mississippi	8	Wisconsin	10

That assures it. Friends! in spite of fraud, we are on the home stretch, with every prospect of success.

The Radical Plot.

We gave our readers yesterday the telegram to the Courier-Journal about the Radical purpose to work up another reconstruction of Georgia.

The pertinacious endeavors of Bryant in Savannah, Mayfield in Greensboro, and Conley and Farrow in Atlanta, all Grant's beefeaters, to raise trouble at the election, and their persecution of the Democrats since by the machinery of the Federal Court, are fresh in mind, and point to the same conclusion.

If our readers will consider that Georgia's electoral vote may decide the election, it will be seen at once that a pretext to throw out her vote may be necessary to the Radicals. Their preparation for such an outrage demonstrates how closely they have calculated. The South going for Greeley gives him two-thirds of the electoral majority. Indiana, Connecticut, New York, and several other Northern and Western States secure Greeley's success. In a close race Georgia's vote thrown out might count Grant in. The Radicals are providing for every contingency.

Their first hope is that the Straight movement will divide the Georgia Democracy and secure Grant. But that failing, then the vote must be set aside. If by means of a Democratic division Greeley should obtain a very small majority, they would then claim this as a proof that the immense majority for Smith was fraudulently obtained, and thus use it as a pretext for another reconstruction.

One duty is imperative on the Democracy. It must be united and give a large majority for Greeley to thwart this attempted reconstruction. Every Straight vote will help the iniquitous conspiracy of the Grant crowd to crucify Georgia.

Georgia must stand firm to her record.

Farrow's Warfare on Georgia.

The first thing for the Atlanta Herald to learn is to keep its temper. The second is to study how to conduct controversies courteously. The third is to construe correctly what is written about it, and reply accordingly.

It seems to think that if it is commented upon at all, that it becomes necessary to make a wholesale warfare in return, and indulge in every species of malignant stricture and undignified and discourteous insinuation. We leave it a monopoly of such conduct. The people are neither edified, pleased, nor enlightened with such personalities. If they were we should not engage in them.

We took occasion in an article a day or two ago to condemn some comments of the Herald on the Enforcement Act that were being used by the Radicals against our people. We did so in no unkind spirit to the Herald, and with no desire to injure that journal in any way, but from a sense of public duty to set our people right in a matter of importance. The Herald, in an exceedingly ill-tempered long article and a number of bitter short ones, comes back very venomously, ascribing all sorts of ridiculous and untrue motives to us, and spattering mud generally.

It says nothing to change our opinion or the opinion of the public, that, however well meant the Herald's utterances were about the Enforcement Act, they were "ill-timed, injudicious, and utterly unrepresentative of Southern sentiment," and should never have been written. There was nothing, either in the paragraphs omitted, nor in the remarks supplemented by the Herald the next day—which, by the way, we never saw until yesterday—to alter our opinion.

We give the explanatory remarks.

We understand that some of the Federal officials here were considerably exercised by an editorial which appeared in the Herald of yesterday on the subject of the Enforcement Act. One of these gentry is said to have remarked that it would be used against the Democracy as an evidence of the rebellious feeling in the South. If he did say this he was either a knave or a fool--perhaps he was a great deal of both.

Another inquired of us if we meant to advise resistance to the Enforcement Act. NOT AT ALL. We said that it ought to be resisted, and if the Southern people had the power to resist it, we would urge them to do so regardless of consequences. "Resistance to tyranny is obedience to God," and this Enforcement Act is tyranny, pure, simple and unadulterated.

It will be observed that it is deliberately declared in this explanation that the Enforcement Act "ought to be resisted, and if the Southern people had the power to resist it, we (the Herald) would urge them to do so regardless of consequences." In other words, while the Herald did not mean to advise resistance, it was simply because the power was lacking. This not only does not help the matter, but makes it worse. It leaves the people in an attitude of sullenly meditating resistance to the enforcement of a Federal law, but withholding it simply because we are powerless. Could we be placed in a more injurious attitude? Could we give a heavier blow to our cause than by such sentiments? Could we afford the enemy a better weapon to use against us in the campaign? Could we give them stronger ground for keeping up their warfare on us.

The law is an odious one, but not because it seeks to stop illegal voting, or punish improper interference with the right of suffrage. That is a good idea. We are for pure and free elections. But the wrong of the law is that it is a usurpation of control of the State matters by Federal authority unauthorized by and in violation of the Constitution. And it is odious still further because Federal officers like Farrow and Conley... The remedy is not resistance by force, and our people meditate no such thing. We did not say, as the Herald improperly claims, that it was an unrepresentative journal, but we did say that its special views about resisting the Enforcement Act were utterly unrepresentative. We say so still. And the people say so.

While the law is on the statute book and enforced by the courts, it must be obeyed. The remedy is to repeal it or attack it in the courts.

The Herald regards the arbitrary conduct of Farrow and Conley no more censuringly than we do. At the same time, while we denounce their prostitution of the enginery of the Federal Court to partizan warfare and aggression upon the rights of the people, we do not propose to conduct our opposition in such a way as to add to their power, put us in a false position and damage our own cause. And whenever indiscreet and incorrect utterances are made by friends to injure the cause, we propose to rectify the wrong as far as we are able.

We now dismiss the matter. Its very discussion gives material to the enemy to misconstrue and injure us.

The Chignons in the Political Field.

The New York Herald of the 8th has a lengthy account of a fiery meeting of the woman suffragers at Cooper Institute in Grant's interest.

The Herald says most of the chignons on hand had big heads and small bodies. They were a lean set. Old Colonel Susan Anthony was there in the full glory of her fosiliferous but masculine maidenhood. Lilly Blake was the only pretty petticoat there. Her back hair was stunning with a huge brass ornament in it. Isabella Hooker was another of the screechers of the occasion. She had lots of loose lace sleeves on.

The audience was mostly for Greeley. A man named Luther Marsh presided—a male hen of Grant proportions.

Mrs. Hooper is Henry Ward Beecher's sister. The Herald says her voice was sepulchral. She was for Grant because he was a woman's rights man, and so was his wife, while Greeley was against petticoat suffrage. Here a storm was raised. Hisses and applause mixed in deliriously. And cheers for Grant alternated and blended sweetly with cheers for Greeley, the Greeley fuss rather getting the best of it. She said Henry Wilson was the man of her heart.

Mrs. Matilda Gaige put in then. She lathered into the Democracy and rebels. She said lots of good things about the women. She eulogized the Radicals.

Mrs. Blake, the pretty one of the roosters, plastered Grant. She proposed three cheers for Wilson. At this some body hissed. Some humorous wag yelled, "put out those geese." This restored good humor.

The Rev. Olympia Brown then came to the front. She is a Connecticut preacher, angular and vinegary. She said the only chasm she knew of was the wide and deep one between Chappaqua and the White House, which was pretty sharp for the Reverend "Lymp." She had to give a side swipe at the rebels.

Old brother Susan Anthony then hopped out. She was against the Cincinnati movement because it offered her no "sop." She said she went on her marrow bones to old Greeley for woman rights, but he couldn't see it. She said no party could succeed that didn't have the women on its side.

☞ The Connecticut Town Elections continue to develop encouraging as well as curious facts. One of the drollest is that Senator Ferry's home develops midsummer madness to the extent of a Liberal Republican gain of 3.9 since last spring. The Senator should write another letter.—New York Tribune.

Cotton.

The receipts this week are 99,000 bales, 26,000 more than last year, and 14,000 more than two years since. It is likely the receipts for next week will be about 95,000 bales, compared with 82,000 last year, 84,000 the year before, and 82,000 the year before that; and the receipts at the interior towns 30,000 bales, compared with 34,000 last year, and 28,000 the year before.

The weather this week has been pleasant; the thermometer has averaged 72 degrees at noon; two days cloudy, with a light shower one morning; five days clear and pleasant. On yesterday the thermometer indicated 42 degrees at 7 A. M., and 60 degrees at noon; some white frost was seen, but no damage, and the thermometer must fall to 35 degrees to freeze plants in this latitude.

Next week is our State Fair, for which it is likely we will have splendid weather, as the indications are, it will be cool and pleasant, and no rain.

The receipts at the interior towns are now running a little behind last year, because the crop around Memphis is late; all other towns, except that and Nashville, are far ahead of last year, while the receipts at Memphis are only 74 per cent. of last year. Our estimate of the receipts at the ports for two weeks has been 160,000 bales; exactly the amount of receipts: but, on account of the excentric movement at the gulf ports, our estimate was two large last week, and the same amount too small this week. The movement is so regular at the Atlantic ports, it is easy to estimate it.

Just at this date last year there were rumors on foot which affected the market a few days, and the same thing is likely to occur this year.

The market the past week in New York has been very steady; the small stock there making it easy to sell at full prices, but towards the close of the week holders offered their stocks more freeley, and the demand being good for export made the sales quite large The fear of a corner for October has caused the bears to sell slowly and with a great deal of caution.

The market in Liverpool has also been very steady, with an active demand, both for spinners and export. Such a demand, coming in the spring months, would have put up our markets more than one cent per pound; but now, as there are several things to depress prices, it has taken this active demand to hold the market steady.

While the market for spot cotton is almost an exact reflection of this week last year, being 9½ pence for uplands, futures show ⅛ a penny more weakness. Last year they were selling at 9½ for November delivery, and this year at 9¼ for same month. The principal cause of this difference is our very large and early receipts and the higher price for money, the bank of England having raised its rate of interest to 6 per cent., with a prospect of its going still higher, compared with 5 per cent. at the same time last year, which was the highest point.

We have frequently, of late, called attention to the very small stocks held by Manchester spinners, holding, as they did, less than 50,000 bales stock two weeks ago, and knew they must buy more for several weeks to come. As they have added to their stocks the last two weeks, and must now hold about 100,000 bales, we think they will be less anxious to buy spots at present prices, and will likely buy future shipments at one cent a pound less; and, if they should do so, the smaller demand for spots may make the market dull and lower. But on the other hand, the very small stock of American in Liverpool, only three weeks supply, if every bale is sold, will naturally cause some uneasiness among spinners of American. Of the spinning purposes.

But as a stand off to this small supply, and prospect for a cotton famine of American sorts, there will be shipped by steamer and delivered in two weeks, a full supply of as fine cotton as was ever shipped; and there is 21,000 bales now afloat, which will all be received in Liverpool next week; so it is likely there will be a good many scared, but no one hurt.

Every one knows that when there is a prospect of a short supply of any thing, it can always be made to hold out twice as long as expected; in fact, we are not often injured by what we see coming; it is what may overtake us suddenly, and without warning, that we shall most fear. Small receipts this fall would most certainly have made prices very much higher than they are now.

There were so many errors in a portion of our last week's circular that we give it again. In September, 1869, the receipts up to and including October 1, were 146,000 bales, which was 5 per cent. of the total receipts of the crop at the ports. The weather was about the same as this year. This year the receipts have been 197,000 bales for the same time. As that year was, by far, the earliest fall since the war, we have taken for a basis for our caculation. The crop that year was 3,115,000 bales. Taking the receipts as a basis it makes this crop 4,200,000 bales. Taking the per cent. of receipts as a basis it makes this crop 3,900,000, to be received at the ports, to which must be added for overland and Southern consumption 300,000 more; making total crop still 4,200,000. But as these figures are, of course, very much too large, we suppose there has been 6 per cent., of the crop received up to October 1, making the total crop 3,500,000 bales, which is our present estimate. We believe that 95 per cent. of the receipts for September, every year, is new cotton.

Our own spinners are taking about the same amount from the ports as usual; having taken in September 45,000 bales, compared with 40,000, 65,000, 46,000, and 42,000, for the past four years, same time. The export to foreign countries for September is 39,000 bales, compared with 43,000, 29,000 and 20,000, for the past three years, same time. For the first five weeks of this cotton year, ending October 4th, the receipts have been 230,000 bales, compared with 122,000, 192,000, 206,000, and 149,000, for the past four years, same time, and per cent. of increase this year over other years 87, 19, 11, and 63 per cent., for same time. Our monthly estimate, made up at the end of five weeks, is as follows: receipts 230,155 bales, 7 per cent., makes crop received at ports 3,288,000; add overland, supposed 150,000, Southern consumption 125,000, makes total crop 3,563,000 bales.

Our estimate of overland shipments direct to the mills, we shall have to change from time to time, as there may be many reasons, in the future, to make them smaller or larger. The principal reason governing them is, that when the price is lower at the interior markets, which is generally the case when there is a large crop, or constantly declining prices, then spinners buy largely in the interior, and thus make the shipment, direct to mills, large, as was the case in 1867, when the price fell 13 cents a pound in four months, and the overland shipments for the year were 369,000 bales. This year it is likely that the belief in a small crop, will make prices high in the interior, and so force our spinners to buy at the out ports, and thus make the overland shipments very small. It is to our interest for cotton to go up; but, after reviewing the whole situation, it seems to us that the price must go lower before it touches bottom.

THE STATE FAIR.

Atlanta's Opportunity is at Hand to Make a Big Thing.

Our Atlanta citizens have a magnificent chance to make the greatest Fair in the history of the State.

The Secretary tells us that ten times as many entries from abroad have been made up to this time as ever before. All that is needed is for Atlanta to send on exhibition her quota of articles and for her people to attend to make this the largest and most successful Fair ever held in Georgia.

We hope our Atlanta people will appreciate the occasion. Her honor is at stake. Her reputation for doing big things is involved. Her enterprise, liberality, public spirit all hand in the balance.

The outsiders have done more than before for us. Nothing is needed now but for Atlanta to take hold in dead earnest.

The correspondent of the Griffin News thus writes:

The State elections being over, and the elections on Tuesday having proved very uninteresting, Atanta has turned its undivided attention to the Georgia State Fair, which promises to be one of more than ordinary interest. Colonel Barnett, the Chief Secretary, and his courteous assistant, Mr. Malcolm Johnson, are working like beavers, and though they have not made much of a "splurge," they have been quietly preparing an exhibition that may astonish the good people of the Commonwealth next week. Col. Barnett is one of the most enthusiastic agriculturists in the State, and one of the best agricultural orators in the country, and his addresses delivered during the summer in all parts of the State have awakened an interest, that cannot fail to tell largely upon the success of the Fair. Indeed, the Colonel is bound to make it a success, and if he lacks in experience he will more than make it up in energy and zeal. The Society have furnished him an able corps of assistants.

The appointment of Colonel James H. Fannin, of LaGrange, as Chief Marshall, or General Superintendent, is an admirable selection. A more able, accomplished and experienced gentleman could not be found. And in the list of Superintendents, we find the names of many of the old veterans, who have so ably served the Society for the past three years. Prominent amongst which are Colonel H. D. Capers, of Savannah, Superintendent Fine Arts, a department in which the Colonel has already greatly distinguished himself. Col. L. F. Livingston, and Judge Schley, at the head of the Department of Agricultural Improvement; Gen. Wm. Phillips, Improvement of Stock; Judge D. A. Vason, Improvement of Crops; Col T. J. Smith, of Oconee, Home Industry; Col. J. M. Stubbs, Dublin, Machinery, and Maj. B. F. Ward, Indian Springs, Manufactures, are all gentlemen well known to the people of Georgia, and whose very names will prove a tower of strength to the managers of the Fair.

The Brunswick and Albany Railroad.

We are frequently asked for information as to the prospects of this enterprise, what the bondholders intend to do, etc. To all inquirers we have only this to say: We have no information looking to anything like an early settlement of the difficulties in which the road is involved. We have no correspondence with anybody interested in the matter—never had any intercourse or correspondence with a bondholder, and know absolutely nothing as to their plans and purposes.

But we have a well grounded suspicion that there is a game on foot to gobble at the expense of the foreign bondholders, and involving the virtual destruction of the line from Brunswick to this city. Three or four companies are parties to the scheme, and if they succeed, we shall have a road from Hawkinsville via Albany to Eufaula, and the hot struggle for the iron now on the line from Brunswick to Albany. Knavery and cunning are at work, but a lynx eye is on the watch. Verbum sat.—Albany News.

MADRID, October 3.

A terrible fire occurred last evening in the town of Escurial, twenty-four miles north west of the city. A thunder storm which had been threatening during the afternoon broke violently in the evening, accompanied by vivid flashes of lightning. The palace of the Escurial was struck by a bolt and immediately set on fire. The flames quickly spread through the building, and the royal library, containing thousands of volumes of great value, was soon a sheet of flame.

The palace itself seemed doomed to inevitable destruction; the flames were issuing from the windows and other parts of the building, and dense volumes of smoke filling the halls and entrances, made all attempts at rescuing the paintings or other valuables abortive. The splendid gallery of paintings, the collection of ages, was threatened with destruction. The fire was soon communicated to the church or monastery adjoining the palace, which, at latest reports, was also in danger of being destroyed. Owing to the strong wind, the fire progressed with fearful rapidity, flames occasionally shooting to a great hight, and lighting up the surrounding darkness.

Shortly after the fire broke out a dispatch was sent to the King's palace in this city, informing his Majesty of the occurrence He immediately dispatched a brigade of firemen, with all the necessary apparatus, to Escurial, and followed quickly in person. The news has caused great excitement in Madrid, and many have gone to the scene of the fire.

At midnight the fire was raging with unabating fury. An immense crowd of excited citizens congregated in the vicinity, all actively exerting themselves to save the building from destruction. The appliances for fighting the conflagration were meagre, and unserviceable. The arrival of the King's firemen is momentarily expected.

The fire brigade sent from Madrid has arrived at the Escurial. Through its exertions the flames have been checked, and although still burning, are confined to that part of the palace in which the library is located. A great quantity of books and manuscripts has been removed, and there are hopes of saving the entire library, but in a damaged condition.

Saratoga Courting.

One Charles Augustus, in particular, has found the season of 1872 to be very remunerative. This is his story of his trials and his triumphs: In June last he discovered, at the Clarendon Hotel, a pair of bright blue eyes, whose market value, in N. Y. Central, was twelve hundred thousand dollars. He saw whole trains of palace cars and semi-annual dividends in those blue eyes, every time he met their glance. She drove to the lake. He drove to the lake. She did the Geyser drive every afternoon. He shadowed her constantly like a detective. She flew to Quebec. He quickly followed by the next train. She hurried to Niagara. He pursued. She returned to the Clarendon, and he ditto, ditto. He was presented to her. His moustache met her views. She wilted; her mother consented, and they will go to Europe this autumn, after the Rev. Dr. M. ties the knot.

☞ It is now no longer a secret that, already many months ago, the saintly and devoted Bishop Persico, of Savannah, entreated the Holy Father to relieve him of the charge of the Diocese of Savannah, Georgia. The malady that repeatedly threatened his life, while a Vicar Apostolic in the East Indies, still effects him in any hot climate. And his Episcopal solicitude will not permit him to take rest while charged with the oversight of a wide and growing diocese. It is with deep sorrow we learn that Bishop Persico is to leave the United States. A Metropolitan, elsewhere, has most cordially invited him to a Prelatic position of great importance, and of delicate responsibility—where his Apostolic zeal will have an abundant and fruitful field for its exertion. The Diocese of Savannah, meanwhile, is not left unprovided. But, joyful as the news will be to the Catholic clergy and people of Georgia, it is better to leave it to rumor, till the determination of the Holy Father, is authentically known.—Catholic Register.

☞ The distinguished editor of THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION in the spirit of Horace Greeley, and emulating our ancient friend's example, has taken to delivering agricultural speeches.

We shall have a book next with this poetic title, "What I Know About Farming. By I. W. A.," etc., etc.—Macon Enterprise.

Vell, vot of it?

No Georgia Congressman to be Admitted.

At a Radical gathering in Macon, Fitzpatrick made a speech in which he used the following expression, as reported by the Macon Enterprise:

He concluded by advising the colored people not to vote at any election, but to go along about their daily business. He felt assured of Grant's re-election, after which they would get the protection they needed, and the reckoning would be had with the voters of Wednesday. He assured them no Congressman elected by the Greeley party of Georgia would take his seat.

C. C. Hammock for Mayor.

Editors Constitution: The name of C. C. Hammock has been mentioned very frequently, on the streets, as a suitable man for Mayor next year. While we regret the action of Council, which reduced the salary of the Mayor for the ensuing year to eight hundred dollars, and belive that such action, whether intended or not, will have the effect to lower the dignity of the office and prevent good men, whose time is always valuable, from accepting the same. We trust an exception will be made for this time and that Judge Hammock will allow his name to be used in the nomination for Mayor. We know him to be a fine business man, a man of sound judgment, of good discretion, of firm integrity, and unbounded energy. All of which together with many other fine traits of character, make him eminently qualified to fill the important office of Mayor.

Let him be nominated. "VOTER."

Interesting Domestic and Foreign Intelligence

Financial and Commercial.

WASHINGTON, October 12.—The Signal office has just had another very decided success in its new role of adopting its probabilities to the wants of agriculture. This time its got nearly two days ahead of Jack Frost, whose visitations have been very extensive within the past twenty-four hours. It is believed that this new ability of the weather reports by premonishing severe frosts will enable horticulturals and farmers generally to save many of their products from untimely blight and greatly enhance the value of the probabilities in the eyes of the entire rural public.

Probabilities.—The barometer will probably rise on the lakes by Sunday with north to west winds, clearing weather, but occasional light rains. On the lower lakes, and thence over the Middle and Eastern States brisk southerly to westerly winds with threatening weather, and occasional rain belts extending to West Virginia and the Ohio Valley. In the Northwest and Upper Mississippi Valley northerly to westerly winds, increasing pressure, cooler and partly cloudy weather. In the South Atlantic and Gulf States light northerly to easterly winds and generally clear weather, unless with cloudiness on the Gulf coasts; winds possibly veering to southerly on the South Atlantic. No reports were transmitted from the far northwest.

NEW YORK, October 12.—Yacht Dreadnought won the ocean race of 240 miles in 25 hours, 5 minutes, beating yacht Palmer.

The cotton statement sent out last night should be corrected to read: Exports for week, 36,821; total for year, 91,456.

BANGOR, October 12.—Schwartz block was burned. Insurance $88,000. The loss is very heavy. The falling walls killed one and hurt several.

LEWISTON, October 12.—The first severe frost fell last night. Vegetation cut short. Ice formed in some places.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 12.—The Board of Supervisors having failed to override Mayor Alvards veto the order favoring the subsidy of two and a half million dollars to the Central Pacific Railroad is dead and cannot be revived.

ST. LOUIS, MO., October 12.—The Cotton Association gave its annual banquet at Sangerfest Hall to the cotton growers who exhibit cotton at the St. Louis Fair. About one thousand persons, representing the common interests of the South and the commercial interests of St. Louis and the West, were present.

The sweepstake premium of $1,000 for the best bale of long or short staple cotton was awarded to J. G. Yerger, of Port Edwards, Mississippi.

The departments will be closed Monday and draped thirty days in respect of Seward. His last words were "Love one another."

PARIS, Oct. 12.—Prince Napoleon will be escorted to the frontier by a military guard.

MADRID, Oct. 12.—Later details of the revolutionary outbreak at Ferroll, the garrison of the fortress and crew of the steamer Majerdo continue to withstand overtures of the rebels, and remain faithful to the government.

Notwithstanding this, the insurgents had succeeded in gaining possession of the gunboats which were anchored in the harbor. The obtained possession of the light... government reinforcements cannot reach the place by sea.

When the Minister of the Colonies announced the facts in the Cortes, the Alphonists and Republican deputies took occasion to disavow any complicity with the movement, and declare their sympathy with the government as against the insurrectionists.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK, October 12.—The great interest of the day at Jerome Park was centered in the race between Bassett and Monarchist, and the excitement ran high. Spectators crowded every available spot and most intense anxiety was awakened. The two horses ran neck and neck, all betting changing with every turn. Bassett played-out after the third mile. Monarchist nobly won the race by 200 yards, amid enthusiatic cheering in 7:33 1-2. The entries were Bassett, Monarchist, King Henry. Bassett came in second. The betting was very active, though immediately prior to the race, Monarchist stock crept up from what it was last night.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., October 12.—Steamers Hanover from Bremen, Saxonia from Hamburg, brought 1,100 emigrants, mostly for Texas.

PHILADELPHIA, October 12.—The official vote of the State, except 12 counties, and those estimated, shows a majority for Hartranft of 35,726.

HEMPSTEAD, TEX., October 12.—Calahan's oil works, including cotton gin, grist mill and soap factory was burned by matches in seed cotton. Loss 80,000 dollars; insurance 15,000 dollars.

PARIS, October 12.—The announcement last night that Prince Napoleon had left Paris in obedience to order of government was premature. His notice to depart directed him to leave at noon to-day, but not having complied therewith at half past twelve o'clock, he was waited upon by the Secretary of the Prefect of Police and two agents of government, with orders for him to follow them towards Switzerland. The Prince thereupon left the city. Princess Crothilde voluntarily accompanied him.

THE REASON WHY.—We have discovered the reason why Gorman of the Talbotton Standard is so popular with the ladies. He carries his pockets filled with candy. While in Europe he says he slept at the foot of Mt. Blanc and saw the sun rise over its summit, covered with snow!

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.—This Court has taken a recess for a few days. Judge Erskine left for Savannah last night, where he holds court. The new court room in Austell's building will be a handsome affair, and will be occupied on to-morrow.

SHEEP AND DOGS.—We learn that Messrs. L. B. Allen & Co., of New York, have entered for exhibition at our Fair this week two well-trained Shepherd dogs, which will doubtless be a pleasing feature to those who are interested in raising sheep in our State, which branch of industry has been too much neglected by our people.

MILLINERY.—The time for the ladies to don the fall styles of hats and bonnets has arrived. The vexatious question of where they can be obtained is easier settled than that of what one they shall purchase. It is difficult to decide where all are so beautiful. But Holbrook's Millinery Emporium over his hat store is the place.

DEGIVE'S.—Our theater going habitues and visitors to the State Fair will remember that the excellent troupe of Manager John Templeton will begin an engagement at the above place on Monday night. The company has just closed a very successful engagement in Savannah. East Lynne, the bill for Monday. It is an excellent selection.

CARPETS! CARPETS!—S. S. Kendrick & Sons are offering the public the most extensive and elegant stock of Carpets, Oil Cloths, Rugs, Window Shades, Laces, Lamberquins, etc., ever before offered by them.

Visitors to the fair, and all wanting goods in their line should visit their establishment on Alabama street.

H-O-L-B-R-O-O-K.—Holbrook's Hat Emporium on Whitehall street presents an attractive appearance. Every style and color of hats can be seen there. Soft hats, silk hats, straw hats, Greeley hats, tile hats—every kind of hat can be found at the Emporium. And then again he sells them so fast because he sells them so cheap. Ho! all ye hatters, go to Holbrook's and get you a handsome tile for the fair.

AN INCIDENT.—Yesterday evening all the household effects of a poor colored woman was distrained for rent, and they were about to be sold. Farrow, Conley, and the rest, did not come to her aid. But James Banks Capt. W. T. Newman and Henry Hillyer, prompted by motives of compassion, came to her relief and so arranged it that her goods were not taken.

THREE FINE FARMS.—E. D. Cheshire, real estate agent at Gainesville, has a fine farm near Clarkesville and the Air-Line Railroad. It contains 270 acres; one three miles from Nacoochee Valley, containing 440 acres (on it is a grist mill); and 2,110 acres in the fork of Loque and Chattahoochee rivers, near the Air-Line Railroad. These are splendid northeast Georgia farms and will be sold on reasonable terms.

THE last dispatch is from the Northern markets and it says to visitors to the Fair, and our own citizens, that Lewis Clarke has brought to Atlanta a beautiful assortment of the most fashionable furs now worn. Only go and see them and you are sure to purchase. His selection of Furs are just as pretty as we ever wish to see. His Dolly Varden sets for little girls, will tempt any mother who will examine them. Clarke is a gentleman of taste and knows how to please.

POMOLOGICAL.—The Pomological Society met yesterday, President J. R. Wallace in the Chair. President Wallace exhibited several varieties of apples, and specimens of his mammoth peach.

Mrs. Powell exhibited several specimens of Dabney's honey peach, and the crab apple.

The Society adjourned to meet Saturday week in ... space of the fair.

THE MEETING AT JAMES' HALL!

Large Assemblage of Democrats!

James' Hall was comfortably filled last night by the Democracy, and many of our most substantial and most respected citizens were present. If it had been generally known that U. S. Senator Norwood would speak, the house would have been densely packed. As it was, the meeting was quite a large one and passed off well.

Col. E. Y. Clarke was the first speaker. He waited for some time for Senator Norwood, until the audience became impatient, and proceeded with his speech. His first effort was to show that there was no reason to be despondent, and gave a list of States as confidently claimed for Greeley that would triumphantly elect him; but to do this it was necessary to have a united South. He argued that Mr. O'Conor was not in the field, and that voting for him was equivalent to not voting at all. He reviewed the character of Horace Greeley, personally and politically, and then as the representative of a great cause, winding up with an appeal to the Straights to unite with the great mass of the Democratic party in the support of its candidate.

Senator Norwood was then introduced to the assemblage. He demonstrated by an able argument that this government was a despotism, and that the President was a despot, showing that the question was not how to prevent a despotism in this country, but how to overthrow it.

He showed that this could be done in three ways, by securing control of the States, by obtaining a majority of the Lower House of Congress, and thirdly, by the election of Horace Greeley to the Presidency.

These arguments were presented in a lucid and succinct manner, carrying conviction to all present. He then proceeded to show that we had great reasons for encouragement and gave a most interesting sketch of the progress of the Senatorial party and Democratic principles since the close of the war. It has steadily advanced from insignificant number to almost an equal number with the Republicans in the House of Representatives. That there had been a large increase in the United States Senate, and that a great number of States have been recovered by the Democracy. He then gave a most cheering estimate of the Electoral votes that would probably be received by Mr. Greeley, making a most pleasurable calculation that secured his election. The speech had a fine effect upon his hearers. Each speech occupied about one hour and a quarter in the delivery and was frequently and loudly applauded. The name of Horace Greeley evoked enthusiastic cheers, and the meeting broke up in fine humor and spirits.

A GOOD MOVE.—The Chamber of Commerce have passed a resolution requesting the merchants of Atlanta to close their business houses on next Thursday from ten A. M. until five P M. to allow clerks and proprietors to attend the Fair [at every one attend.

AN EXCELLENT INSTITUTION.—We saw in operation a few days ago an electric burglar alarm at the shop of Victor Foucher, on Whitehall street. It was patented May 28, 1872, by Hoffman, of Mobile. The door or window is thrown in the circuit, and when the door is opened or the window raised an inch or so, the alarm bell is sounded by means of the electric current. It is very simple and cheap.

THE AUGUSTA BAR.—The Augusta Bar has been ably represented here during the week. Gen. A. R. Wright, Hon. J. S. Hook, Hon. J. C. C. Black, Hon. C. Snead, Hon. G. T. Barnes, Frank H. Miller, H. C. Foster, and J. P. Carr, have attended the session of the Supreme Court. Hon. A. M. Rodgers, of Burke county, was also in attendance. All good men and true.

ENTRIES FOR THE STATE FAIR.—Up to 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, six hundred and thirty-seven entries had been made for the Fair. Quite a large number of persons on the grounds and in the city. The engine, road steamer, and steam plow, have been tried, and all work admirably. Among various things examined by us were some worsted flowers, all on one stem and under a glass. They are very handsome, and are the work of a lady over sixty years of age.

THE EPISCOPAL BAZAAR.—The Episcopal Bazaar opened at the Skating Rink yesterday under flattering auspices. The tables groaned beneath the weight of useful and ornamental articles. Last night the Bazaar was thronged with many beautiful... we noticed Mrs. Miles Turpin and Mrs. Grant assisting her. Miss Alice Glenn was assisting at the Art Gallery. Some of the swains called it the gal-lery of hearts that were sweet. The gallery is very popular nevertheless. Vocal and instrumental music every day. Lunch at all hours. We predict for the ladies next week a brilliant success. So mote it be.

MESSRS. LOWE, DOUGLASS & DALLAS.—The reputation of these gentlemen is such as to require no word of commendation from us. New goods are received daily at the house of these gentlemen, which will be shown to customers or visitors by polite and attentive clerks. One of the firm has recently returned from the Northern markets where he has been to replenish their stock, by the continous shipping of goods to Atlanta, thus keeping on hand the freshest styles of goods in steady supply. We have not the space to allude in detail to the extent and variety of their stock, which comprises in vast qualities every article that a first-class dry goods, establishment generally has, and which customers, or dealers in this business, could wish to purchase.

VISITORS TO THE FAIR—And our own citizens, are informed that Mrs. Frank has just returned from the Northern markets, and has received, and is still receiving many new and beautiful things at her establishment on Decatur street. It is impossible in a newspaper notice to enumerate the quantities of pretty goods with which her shelves, drawers and counters are filled. She has been so long in the business that she knows exactly how to lay in her stock, and is so well acquainted with our citizens, and those of the neighboring towns and country, that in making her selections, she knows exactly what will please and suit them, both as to style, quality and price.

A VALUABLE ACCESSION.—We are truly glad to learn that our enterprising and energetic young friend, Charlie Wallace, son of the prince of railroad men, Major Campbell Wallace, of Atlanta, has bought an interest in the Cartersvill Car Factory, and has been elected one of the directors. Charlie is a thorough-going, drive-ahead man, and one of the best railroad men of his age in America. His father says that he excels him. It is a conceded fact by all who are acquainted with Major Wallace that his superior in the construction and management of railroads is not to be found on this or any other continent, and Charlie is closely following in his foot-steps. We are informed that this factory is getting all the work that they can do in their building department. Vast quantities of lumber are dressed at this establishment and sent off on the railroads. With the energies of young Mr. Wallace combined with that of the company, a bright and successful future awaits the young and prosperous manufactory. He will bring to bear upon it an influence that will be felt, and that will count in dollars and cents. Charlie is already a successful railroad master, having been for several years past Superintendent of the Selma & Meridian Railroad. We congratulate both the company and the citizens of Cartersville upon this valuable accession.

A CALL.—The Democrats of the 2d Ward Club are requested to meet at the Recorder's Court Room, on Pryor street, on Monday night, the 14th, by order of the President JNO. S. WISE.

THE BAZAAR.—A very generous and liberal donation of books have been contributed by friends from Philadelphia. J. B. Lippincott & Co. Claxton, Remsen & Haffelfinger, and Richard McCauley. A very beautiful silver tea service and other articles have been contributed by John O. James, G. W. Thomas, Miss Loughote, and Mr. Childs of the "Ledger," all of Philadelphia.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING IN SIXTH WARD.—The meeting was called to order by Mr. Robt. Young, as temporary Chairman, and Mr. W. L. Roberts as Secretary.

On motion of Mr Maher, the chair appointed Mr. Maher, J. T. Meador, W. G. Gramling, W. A. Fuller, and J. G. Paund, as a committee of five to prepare business for the meeting.

To golden grain, or mellowed fruit,
Or rainbow-tinted flowers.

The granite rocks disorganize
And feed the hungry moss they bear;
The forest leaves drink daily life
From out the viewless air.

There is no death! The leaves may fall
And flowers may fade and pass away;
They only wait, through wintry hours,
The coming of May day.

There is no death! An angel form
Walks o'er the earth with silent tread,
And bears our best loved things away,
And then we call them "dead."

He leaves our hearts all desolate:
He plucks our fairest, sweetest flowers,
Transplanted into bliss they now
Adorn immortal bowers.

The birdlike voice, whose joyous tones
Made glad these scenes of sin and strife,
Sings now an everlasting song
Around the Tree of Life.

Where'er he sees a smile too bright,
Or heart too pure for taint or vice,
He bears it to that world of light,
To dwell in paradise.

Born unto that undying life,
They leave us but to come again;
With joy we welcome them the same,
Except their sin and pain.

And ever near us, though unseen,
The dear, immortal spirits tread;
For all the boundless universe
Is life—there is no dead!

Standing Notices.

SOZODONT.—All Dentrifices had their drawbacks, until the salubrious Bark of the Soap Tree was brought from the Chilian valleys to perfect the fragrant Sozodont, the most wholesome, reliable and delightful article for the teeth, that a brush was ever dipped into. oct7-deod1w&w1t.

$1,000 Reward will be paid by the proprietor of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for a medicine that will equal it in curing severe and lingering Coughs, Bronchitis and all diseases of the lungs. oct7-deod1w&w1t.

BLESSINGS brighten as they take their flight. The chief of blessings is good health, without which nothing is worth the having; it is always appreciated at its true value after it is lost, but too often not before. Live properly, and correct ailments before they become seated. For diseases of the liver, kidneys, skin, stomach, and all arising from impure or feeble blood, DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS are a sure and speedy remedy. It has never yet failed in a single instance. sep13—d&w4w

DEFEND YOUR HEALTH.—The fall of the leaves not only symbolizes human decay, but promotes it. In other words, the effluvia from dying and rotting vegetation is unfavorable to health. To this and other causes—especially excess of moisture in the atmosphere—may be ascribed the prevalence of acute disorders of the stomach, bowels and liver at this season. Every person of bilious habit is liable to be very bilious in the fall. Then, too, all persons whose digestion is weak are more than ordinarily dyspeptic, and individuals predisposed to colic, diarrhœa and dysentery are particularly likely to be attacked by these complaints. The most complete defense against each and all of these distressing ailments is bodily vigor. To obtain this blessing in all its plentitude where it does not exist, and to preserve and perpetuate it where it does exist, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is earnestly recommended. It is the peculiar office of this preparation to reinforce and regulate the important organs which digest and temper the food, and convert it into life-sustaining blood. Bodily vigor depends upon the nourishing qualities of that fluid, and the nutritiousness of the blood depends upon the functional activity and regularity which it is the special province of the Bitters to secure. Hence it is the best defense of health at this season, and indeed at all seasons. When dysentery, diarrhœa, bilious colic, and other violent affections of the bowels, become epidemic, as they often do in certain parts of the country in the fall, it will be found that persons who have been wise enough to resort to the Bitters as a preventive are almost invariably exempted from the scourge. oct7-deod1w&w1t.

TWENTY YEARS YOUNGER.—To say that hundreds of maids, wives and widows look twenty years younger than they are in consequence of the complexional freshness derived from the use of Hagan's Magnolia Balm, is simply to state an absolute fact, which might be promptly verified by direct testimony if ladies were as willing to tell their ages as to use the best means of making themselves lovely. Nature sometimes, but very rarely, crowns the charm of perfect features with a complexion of exquisite clearness; but even then time soon begins to make inroads upon the velvet cheek, the fair white brow, the ivory bust, the rounded arm. To preserve the "glory of woman" unblemished, even after the meridian of life has been passed, it is only necessary to use daily this cooling, healthful, vegetable preparation. oct7-deod1w&w1t.

BACHELORS' HAIR DYE.—This superb Hair Dye is the best in the world—perfectly harmless, reliable and instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints or disagreeable odor. The genuine Wm. A. Batchelor's Hair Dye produces immediately a splendid black or natural brown, leaves the hair clean, soft, beautiful; does not contain a particle of lead or any injurious compound. Sold by all druggists. Factory, 16 BOND STREET, New York. oct2—d1y

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN
JURUBEBA
BLOOD PURIFIER

It is not a physic which may give temporary relief to the sufferer for the first few doses, but which, from continued use brings Piles and kindred diseases to aid in weakening the invalid, nor is it a doctored liquor, which, under the popular name of "Bitters" is so extensively palmed off on the public as sovereign remedies, but it is a most powerful Tonic and alterative, pronounced so by the leading medical authorities of London and Paris, and has been long used by the regular physicians of other countries with wonderful remedial results.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

retains all the medical virtues peculiar to the plant and must be taken as a permanent curative agent.

Is there want of action in your Liver and Spleen! Unless relieved at once the blood becomes impure by deleterious secretions, producing scrofulous or skin diseases, Blotches, Felons, Pustules, Canker, Pimples, etc.

Take JURUBEBA to cleanse, purify and restore the vitiated blood to healthy action.

Have you a Dyspeptic Stomach! Unless digestion is promptly aided the system is debilitated with loss of vital force, poverty of the blood, dropsical tendency, general weakness or lassitude.

Take it to assist Digestion without reaction, it will impart youthful vigor to the weary sufferer.

Have you a weakness of the Intestines? You are in danger of Chronic Diarrhœa or the dreadful Inflammation of the Bowels.

Have you weakness of the Uterine or Urinary Organs? ...

Take it to strengthen organic weakness or life becomes a burden.

Finally it should be frequently taken to keep the system in perfect health or you are otherwise in great danger of malarial, miasmatic or contagious diseases.
